We intend to take the NLP International Conference to the next level. More presenter sessions, more engagement and interaction and even more community spirit!

With over 50% of the presenters making their debut at the conference, we're anticipating thousands of attendee interactions, more exhibitor stand visits, even more video meetings and many, many friends for you to meet and re-meet. That's what the NLP International Conference is all about... and the virtual setting offers so many more opportunities for all delegates to attend live those sessions they are available for and watch all the other session recordings, which are available for 6 months after the conference ends.

If you are attending the 2022 virtual NLP International Conference...

please read this!

We want you to have the best conference experience possible and feel empowered and enabled to make the most of the four days of conference sessions. Taking time before the event starts to familiarise yourself with the technology will enable you to relax, be present, focus on the session content and absorb as much as you can.

Here are the ESSENTIAL points to enhance your virtual conference experience.

Whova (pronounced Hoo-va)

This is the event app and the platform we have used since 2017 to give the best information and networking opportunities for our attendees. You must be logged into Whova in order to attend the presentations and connect with other attendees, and to access recordings after the conference has ended.

Whova has produced a useful guide on how to use the app, which you can access here:

<https://whova.com/pages/whova-app-user-guide/>

Once you have downloaded, installed and logged into the app, you have access to all the conference facilities and other quick reference guides.

Summary of important points

1. Your email address is your Conference Pass

- The email address you used to purchase your 3-day Conference Pass is the email address you MUST use to sign in to the Whova event app.
- If for any reason you no longer have access to the email address you used to purchase your Conference Pass, please let the Conference Team know your new email address by 10th May 2022 at the latest.

2. Google Chrome is the recommended browser

- We recommend you download and install Google Chrome on your PC, Mac or laptop before launching the Whova web app and using it for the conference. Google Chrome has been extensively tested with the app by Whova; other browsers may not support all Whova's functionality.

3. Whova event app launches on 2nd May 2022

- You will be able to access the conference events through Whova from 2nd May 2022.
- We will be running Delegate Conference Familiarity Sessions, which give you the opportunity to log in, find your way around the app and ask us any questions by joining a 'presentation' within the app.
- Take some time to explore the Whova environment. Connect with other delegates, create your conference agenda and visit the exhibitor stands for special offers and discounts. You can even set up your own video chats in Whova (up to 30 people) to start discussions or special interest groups. You can discuss topics others have started in the messaging area and set up your own topic(s) to generate conversations too. This is the place for collaboration and networking!

4. Equipment

We have carried out a huge amount of testing over the last two years. This is what we have found:

- PC/Mac/laptop with as big a screen as possible is best for viewing the presentations and the exhibitor sessions.
- Mobile devices (smartphones, tablets, etc.) are good to use for networking, messaging and personal contact.

You will NOT be able to view the presentations on more than one device at a time (for security reasons).

5. Your comfort

- The conference schedule has been designed to allow a minimum 30-minute break every 90 minutes.
- Some of the presenters will be encouraging movement in their sessions, so please make sure you have adequate space around you!
- As far as possible, ensure the conference is YOUR time. Create space and time for yourself. After all, if you were attending onsite, in-person, you would be fully immersing yourself in the conference experience...
- Look after yourself and your needs – including adequate hydration!

6. Technology – it is what it is, and there are no guarantees

- We have contingency plans in place, on our side, for every presentation to ensure it is recorded. However, we cannot legislate for technology glitches in/on any of our equipment, WiFi, broadband or the network performance of every centimetre of cable for the internet. There are so many variables...
- All presentations are being recorded and will be available for six months after the conference closes. As long as you keep your Whova login details, you will have the opportunity to view the sessions again and again, as many times as you want within those six months...

All conference attendees have been emailed packs containing more detailed instructions, guidelines and tips. The more carefully you read these, the more time you can spend enjoying the conference.

You can join in on social media and share your conference experience on these platforms:

 NLP International Conference

Thank You

The NLP International Conference is supported by a huge number of people to make it the best it can be. Here are some of them...

The 2022 virtual presenters

With over 150 presentation applications for 2022, we wanted to include as many presenters as possible, and the virtual platform and recording of sessions allows us to give more to delegates. Sixty-four speakers (half of whom are new to the conference) from five continents will be presenting new models, different perspectives, innovative tools and techniques for delegates to absorb and discuss. Whilst time zones have been taken into account where possible, some people are still getting up super early or going to bed super late for the privilege of presenting to attendees.

We're grateful for our presenters and the amazing array of topics they will be delivering to delegates in 2022. Thank you.

<https://www.nlpconference.com/programme>

2022 virtual exhibitors

Another sparkling array of companies are offering a myriad of products and services for attendees. Please visit them on the Whova app (see menu item 'Exhibitors') and catch their special offers and discounts. Each exhibitor has a 30-minute 'Exhibitor Live' session to showcase their offerings and answer any questions you may have.

We also thank our exhibitors for putting so much thought and energy into their virtual stands to make sure all delegates have an opportunity to find something new and possibly save some money! Thank you, exhibitors!

<https://www.nlpconference.com/2022-exhibitors>

2022 virtual stewards

With a greater number of presenters and presentations comes a greater responsibility to deliver a great experience. The enormous task of holding the space for the presenters and delegates to come together and meet is so much more than a Zoom meeting. Slides, videos, time zones, breakout rooms, technology glitches, team management, practice, practice, practice... and so much more.

Our stewards are amazing individuals; as a team, they surpass that. There are not enough superlatives to describe these astonishing people, who give of themselves so others can enjoy a fantastic conference environment. We could not do this without our stewards. They deserve every plaudit and credit for what they do. Thank you.

The NLP Conference Team

The organisation of an international event needs selfless people to tirelessly deliver excellence. Luckily, the ANLP team does this every year and 2022 is no different – but with even more presenters to manage, more collateral to produce and more fun to generate. The team gets very little sleep during the conference and we know that 2022 will require more commitment to all attendees than ever. Bring it on!

We sincerely hope you enjoy the 2022 virtual NLP International Conference.

Thank you!

Stream 1 In an Image-Obsessed World, Stop Posing and Start Living with Social Media Resilience

Abigail Edmunds started her career in the fitness industry at the age of 17. Now with an MSc in Rehabilitation Sciences, she is an NLP Trainer and is soon to be a qualified physiotherapist. Abi cuts through misinformation; she is practical, honest and focuses on results.

Social media is an incredibly powerful tool to connect. Yet so many feel disconnected, anxious and jealous, as well as experiencing the crippling effect of comparisons and the fear of missing out (FOMO) because of social media use. In this session, we will apply NLP strategies to change your relationship with social media, overcome negative comparisons and silence the FOMO for good.

Stream 2 Freedom from Anxiety using Wingwave Coaching – An Introduction

Caroline Rushforth is a Freedom from Anxiety expert and trainer. Caroline is the leading national UK trainer for the internationally recognised advanced coaching technique Wingwave® Coaching. Wingwave® combined with NLP makes for amazing transformation!

In this session, you will gain knowledge about the impact of unprocessed emotion in both the physical and mental body. You will learn about right brain vs left brain and what happens when it's out of balance. You will gain knowledge and understanding about the healthy function of the vagus nerve and the impact on well-being. Finally, you will gain an understanding of one of the most highly advanced and effective techniques in coaching when combined with NLP.

Jan Cisek is an expert in speed reading and accelerated learning who has presented at previous NLP conferences on these subjects. He's also an environmental psychologist, Feng Shui consultant and spiritual health mentor. He's passionate about NLP applications in different domains ranging from learning environments to the spiritual.

NLP works with metaphors. Your home and workplace are also metaphors and anchors on the physical, environmental logical level. By unpacking your metaphors, eternal factors and constraints of your home and workplace, you'll be able to transform them to work better for you – to become more efficient and effective at using your time and effort. Learn how to use NLP to decode your home/workplace to represent your values and identities and empower your life on all logical levels.

Stream 4 Generative NLP and Somatic Movement

As an NLP Trainer, coach and dancer, Nathalie Lebas uses Generative Somatic Movement to help people reconnect to themselves, to their somatic mind, to their emotions and their inner self in order to be the change they want to be in the world.

The somatic practice of body movements allows you to connect to all parts of your body and your emotions to bring awareness to everything you feel, to calm the nervous system and to move forward in a more confident way towards your authentic being. What you will get from this session is a better understanding of how to use the somatic mind in your lives, in our NLP coaching sessions or training and to gain in efficiency with your clients. But above all, with yourself!

Stream 5 Confidence Calling! How NLP Can Unlock Your Self-Belief

Nicole Greenfield-Smith is a confidence coach and public speaking mentor who is passionate about empowering women to feel good about themselves and build the confidence they deserve. She's a highly experienced public speaker, a published writer and blogger.

Confidence and competence are a powerful mix. But why do so many of us lack confidence, even when there is countless evidence to the contrary? How do you put yourself out there when the thought fills you with dread? Confidence coach and behavioural specialist Nicole Greenfield-Smith reveals how NLP can unlock your inner confidence and enable you to be seen, heard and remembered for all the right reasons.

4 CR Squared

At CR Squared we supply NLP trainers with a world-class learning platform and game-changing core content, and we support trainers in implementing their own style and magic for the digital age.

In over ten years of training design, we have come to value:

- Experimenting with flexible approaches over adherence to traditional methods
- Meeting each student's needs over emphasising full certification
- Supportive online communities over isolated study
- Using available technology solutions over broadcast lectures and printed manuals
- Creative and varied delivery approaches over seeing 'in the room' as ideal

While there is value in the approaches on the right, we value the initiatives on the left more.

We believe that NLP content is as strong as it has always been; however, the delivery needs to evolve.

If it's time to understand this future better, come and talk to us. We would love to know more about your needs.

Your school. Your magic.

ANLP Charity Partnership

It is our fourth year of partnership with Mind BLMK, the mental health charity. We love working with them. The rapport with the Mind BLMK team has been incredible and they have been active in working with us to raise funds for their work. We are humbled and amazed that the response to our partnership has been so full of appreciation and gratitude and we feel such a strong bond with Mind BLMK that we want to work with them in deeper and more practical ways.

The work they do is important

We came to know that funding for Mind has been cut and they are more in need than ever of support for their work... and that got us thinking.

We have started discussions with Mind BLMK to see how we can form a strategic partnership with them to provide general volunteers from within the ANLP membership to support local Mind groups across the UK. In some instances, where our members are appropriately qualified, we are exploring ways in which they can volunteer to work directly with those people who ask Mind for help.

This then becomes a platform for us to help at any level where we can and raise the profile of NLP within another national charity. We hope this will lead to more recognition of the positive changes NLP can bring to the wider world.

As Richard Hurst of Mind says, "We [Mind BLMK] care about how mental health support is given. We care that we talk about mental health openly. We care about the wellbeing of those who we can help to have better strategies to deal with mental health."

We – ANLP, the NLP International Conference and NLP community – want to help them deliver this. Please attend the NLP Awards event at 19:00 on 13th May 2022 to see the great things NLP is achieving in the world through the truly inspirational finalists and winners. Have a wonderful evening and donate to Mind BLMK to support the essential work they are doing too. All proceeds from ticket sales go to Mind BLMK.
