

Delegate's Guide to the Accessing Recordings (Post Conference)

Please, read the following information carefully
BEFORE you access the recordings

1. Sign in to Whova with the same email address that you used to buy your Conference ticket. This is crucial. You can only access the Whova App if the email address you use is the same one you used to purchase your pass and the same email address we used to send you your delegate information.
2. Please keep your conference login details confidential – they are your personal login details, for you to enjoy the presentations and recordings for 6 months after the event.

Guidelines

3. If you are viewing the recordings of the presentations for the 2023 Virtual NLP International Conference on a PC/MAC or laptop, we STRONGLY recommend that you use the Google Chrome browser to sign into Whova. Other browsers such as Firefox, Edge or Safari may have less functionality!
4. Recordings are only available via the Whova app.
5. Navigate to the session you want to see using the Agenda on the Whova App. You can search for the presenter or session name using the search facility. The recording is available in the agenda on the same day the presentation was delivered live.
6. Click on the video to play the edited recording of the session.

Additional Information

7. The session 'Chat' is available on the Whova app and you can still post questions or comments on the session chat until the app closes.
8. All topics and conversations are moderated by the NLP Conference Team. We respect everyone attending the Conference and ask that your contributions to discussions are respectful in terms of language and culture at all times. Please respect other people's models of the world when posting in any chat(s) or topic(s).
9. Out of respect for Conference Exhibitors and Presenters, we do not allow personal or business advertising of any kind in the topics, virtual meet-ups or on posts of any kind. If NLP International Conference Ltd authorised representatives decide that you are advertising your products or services without the prior consent of the Conference organising team, we will remove the topic or post. The decision of the NLP International Conference Team is final.
